

I have been on Indiana's no-call list from its inception and I am pleased. Calls from solicitors have ceased and my evenings are once again, "my evenings." Rather than weakening Indiana's no-call law with your federal no-call law, why not model the federal law after Indianas?